Emerging Public Policy Issues

Every year, after the winter holidays wind down, state employees and elected officials busily prepare for the upcoming legislative session. State agencies and legislators have filed around two thousand bill requests to the Legislative Services Agency for consideration by the 84th Iowa General Assembly. The Division submitted two pre-filed bills and is aware of a number of alcohol related public policy issues that may be brought up for discussion. Here is a quick look at a few that could impact you as a licensee:

I. Delivery of Alcoholic Beverages by Retailers

Last year, Iowa changed from a wine reciprocity state to a direct shipment state by creating a wine shipper's license. This legislative change removed the statutory authority that allowed retailers to deliver alcoholic beverages to homes and other locations. The Division is working with interested parties to craft language that would permit home delivery of wine, beer and spirits.

II. Spirit Sales by Charity Auctions

Several members of nonprofit entities would like to amend Chapter 123 to allow spirits to be auctioned at charity functions in addition to beer and wine. Additionally, some groups want the law to allow donations of alcoholic beverages by wholesalers for consumption at fundraising events.

III. Release of Information for Public Purposes

Private industry groups have expressed interest in obtaining records of licensee purchases from the Division by amending Code § 22.7, subsection 24 to exempt the information from confidential record status. This change will update the Code to reflect current practices regarding the use of the data.

IV. Technical Changes

The Division has submitted to the Iowa legislature two pre-filed bills that make technical and policy changes to Chapter 123. The policy pre-filed bill addresses issues related to grape brandy, makes changes to preconditions for holding a manufacturers license, and enhances accountability and transparency regarding the Division's accounts.

The technical pre-filed bill focuses on moving and clarifying a few definitions as well as amending and removing several sections that are no longer applicable. Additionally, the draft updates licensing procedures to today's electronic standards.

V. Conclusion

As these issues emerge and proceed through the legislative process, I encourage you to stay informed by visiting IowaABD.com, which will provide weekly updates beginning in February. Finally, if you have questions please feel free to contact me or Division staff.

Sincerely,

Stephen Larson

LICENSING CLERK SPECIALIST

What are your job duties?

The main duty of a licensing clerk is to make sure licensees have what they need to run a successful business while following the law. I answer questions ranging from laws and rules to licensing and status checks. I work closely with city clerks to help them approve licenses and make sure everything is done by the due dates. I also assist with insurance companies who provide Iowa licensees with dram shop insurance.

What is your favorite part of your job?

The best part of my job is having the ability to help people, whether they are licensees, city clerks, insurance companies, coworkers or anyone else for that matter. It is very rewarding when someone calls in but is unsure how to do something and by the end of the conversation they understand and have everything they need to proceed.

What is the most challenging part of your job?

The hardest part of my job is when we don't have any choice but to suspend or revoke someone's license. I try very hard to use education, outreach and open communication to make that a last resort because I never want to do something that will hurt someone's business. But, at the end of the day, everyone must follow the law. Part of my job is to work with licensees to help them comply with laws, maintain current dram shop coverage, and anything else I can do to help keep them in compliance.

What do you like to do in your free time?

My fiancé, Greg, and I are easy going and love just hanging out together. We spend a lot of our time taking care of our three guinea pigs. They are our babies and we love them. They are spoiled and have an 18 square foot cage. We also have two leopard spotted geckos. Greg and I like to do puzzles together and play old school video games on the Nintendo 64 and Game Cube. I read a lot - both non-fiction and fiction, classics being my favorite thing to read right now. In the future, I hope to get involved in jewelry and metalwork classes.

Something Old SOMETHING NEW

Injecting a sense of discovery into the marketplace, suppliers have been introducing a range of classic spirits—some new to US consumers, but many a reemergence of traditional products.

BY PAMELADEVI GOVINDA

Note: This excerpt is printed with permission from the May/June 2010 issue of StateWays—the Beverage Alcohol Merchandising Magazine for Control States.

New products are the lifeblood of the beverage alcohol industry, as are new and rediscovered usages of traditional products. If nothing else, the popularity of the cocktail culture and the new wave of mixologists have spurred interest in some forgotten and seldom-used spirits. And suppliers, always sensitive to untapped markets and emerging trends, have taken note and are creating, importing, and reintroducing a range of spirits barely seen on retail shelves as recently as five years ago. Here's a brief discussion of some of these "outlier" spirits categories and products that are creating a buzz.

RYE

Rye is in the midst of a real resurgence. Remember the small-batch bourbon craze? Well rye is aspiring to take its place. When it comes to classic cocktails such as the Manhattan and the Old-Fashioned, some consumers are taking up rye in lieu of bourbon.

ABSINTHE

After the legalization of absinthe two years ago, countless new and old recipes for the anise spirit have launched and relaunched. Word has is that the spirit is gaining momentum and drawing cocktail-geek consumers and the curious alike. "Absinthe attracts because of the mystique surrounding it, but its comeback is also due to the interest in classic cocktails. So many classics contain absinthe including what is considered America's first cocktail, the Sazerac, but beyond that it is leading to experimentation and nouveau cocktails," says Jamie Gordon, brand specialist at Pernod Ricard USA.

CACHAÇA

The cachaça trend is still going strong, and some might argue that it isn't so much emerging as it has arrived, but Steve Luttmann, owner of Leblon Cachaça, says

Some say that the Drake area is known for its eclectic shops and historic neighborhoods; some say it's known for the relays and sporting events. Others say it's the neighborhood restaurant Jethros BBQ that best represents the neighborhood.

Jethros was already well known before it became the feature on the popular food network show Man

v. Food. It has continued to grow in popularity since the episode aired this past October. In the episode, host Adam Richman attempted the Adam Emmenecker food challenge which consists of a 4 pound layered sandwich with breaded pork tenderloin, buffalo chicken strips, slabs of Texas brisket, apple wood bacon, fried cheese, angus steak burger smothered with melted cheddar cheese and white cheddar sauce. The sandwich is accompanied with an additional pound of waffle fries and must be entirely consumed in 15 minutes or less, with the exception of the lettuce, of course. Let's just say this was not a successful challenge for the host. However, four others among hundreds of those who attempted to take on the mammoth Emmenecker sandwich have completed the food challenge. One contender even finished in 7 minutes and 44 seconds with the entire feat posted on You Tube. The signature sandwich is named after the Missouri Valley Conference MVP of 2008, one of the most triumphant seasons for the Drake Bulldogs. Owner Bruce Gereleman noted that the $20 sandwich used to only be ordered 4-5 times a day before the show aired and now the restaurant serves up as many as 50 per day. There were three served in the hour I was there. Not everyone is opting to take the challenge, they just want to see what all the hype is about. The signature sandwich contains something for everyone, literally.

That’s not all that can be found on the vast BBQ menu, Jethro’s even offers brunch items with a breakfast type challenge called The Oink. The oink doesn’t have a famous name or timed challenge but you can consider it a challenge in and of itself if you can take down 16 extra large eggs, filled with a full pound of house smoked pit ham covered in American and cheddar cheeses. Not everything at Jethro’s will ruin your diet. There are some waist-line fiendly wraps and salad selections on the menu as well.

What makes Jethro’s BBQ home of the “Amazing Slow Cooked Meats,” you ask? It is the 750 pound smoker that is filled with oak and hickory wood, this adds flavor and ensures that the smoked meats are always tender and juicy. The entire menu is made daily from scratch, Jethro’s has received awards from Better Homes and Gardens, Des moines Register, City View, and has been voted #1 wings in Des Moines. Next time you are craving BBQ or want to impress your buddies with an extreme food challenge, give the Drake neighborhood sports bar a try and see for yourself.

A Clear Winner

Vodka, the largest spirits category in the US, continues to increase its market share, and despite the recession shows few signs of slowing down.

BY TOM STRENK

Note: This excerpt is printed with permission from the May/June 2010 issue of StateWays—the Beverage Alcohol Merchandising Magazine for Control States.

The vodka machine keeps on humming. Indeed vodka is the single largest spirits category by far, accounting for nearly 31 percent of total US spirits sales by volume, according to the latest figures from the Handbook Advance 2010, published by the Beverage Information Group.

“I would say vodka had a pretty good year in a tough environment,” comments Paul Tuell, director of Finlandia Vodka for the North America and Latin America Regions. “In terms of dollars, it’s been a bit flat; in terms of case volume it’s been a pretty good year.”

The category’s sheer size is one big advantage, especially in this difficult economy. With the proliferation of brands, flavors, varieties, and price points, consumers know there’s a vodka for every preference, taste, and pocketbook—and more to choose from all the time.

CLEAR ADVANTAGES

The white spirit has a number of advantages that have enabled vodka to thrive including drinkability, mixability, and a product to match every drinking occasion. Those qualities are important to younger adult consumers, who are often the target of flavored vodkas, as well as seasoned drinkers, who appreciate the various rungs of quality. And the off-premise trade is well-positioned to take advantage of these factors.

WITH THE PROLIFERATION OF BRANDS, FLAVORS, VARIETIES, AND PRICE POINTS, CONSUMERS KNOW THERE'S A VODKA FOR EVERY PREFERENCE, TASTE, AND POCKETBOOK—AND MORE TO CHOOSE FROM ALL THE TIME.

As the on-premise market has demonstrated for years and a growing number of consumers are discovering at home, vodka is eminently mixable. “With vodka, you don’t need a mixology degree to make a great-tasting cocktail,” points out Gino Luci, brand manager for Three Olives, Proximo Spirits vodka label.

One of the hallmarks of the category is the proliferation of flavored vodkas, which have helped drive growth overall. Traditional tastes of buffalo grass, pepper, and citrus have given way to a tutti-fruitti kaleidoscope ranging from bacon to bubble gum, which begs the question, How many more flavors can fit on retailers’ shelves?

Much of the vodka category’s growth over the past few years has come from ultra-pricey and dazzlingly packaged superpremium entrants. Now that growth has shifted to thrifty value brands. On the plus side, this huge category has the range to capture all consumer buying occasions so customers aren’t trading out of the category altogether. Just how much market share those high-end premium and superpremium subcategories will eventually regain is open to debate. Right now, there’s no question that value rules.

OUTLOOK

The general consensus is that the category overall will continue to experience healthy growth. “Vodka’s versatility ensures the category will continue to have an unwavering presence at home and out-of-home entertaining experiences,” says Simon Burch, vice president of marketing of Diageo North America.

Skyy Spirits believes its vodka brand will continue to grow, “but [the market] will be increasingly competitive as brands compete for greater value share and consumers become more discerning about purchasing products with an eye on value and quality, not just style,” notes Maura McGinn, group director of vodkas and cordials.

“We’re starting to see some signs of life in the on-trade; people are eating out again,” observes Paul Tuell of Finlandia. “With increasing consumer confidence, I think we’re going to see better numbers than last year.”

“Flavors make it easy,” emphasizes Gino Luci, brand manager for the Three Olives, Proximo Spirits vodka label. “Just add a splash of soda, and consumers have a cocktail right in their hand.”

Flavored Vodkas Make Cocktails

Quick & Easy

From club soda and tonic water to fruit juices, smooth liqueurs, and fiery Tabasco sauce, flavored vodkas blend with just about every mixed drink ingredient imaginable. Here are some recipes to get you started on creating your own quick and easy cocktails!

Vodka and Tonic

1½ - 2 ounces flavored vodka
Tonic water
Lime wedge

Pour the vodka over fresh ice in a chilled highball (collins) glass. Fill the glass with tonic water, and garnish with the lime wedge.

Cosmopolitan

¾ - 1 ounce citron or other flavored vodka
½ ounce triple sec or other orange-flavored liqueur
1-1½ ounces cranberry juice
½ ounce freshly squeezed lime juice
Dash of orange bitters
Orange or lemon twist

Pour the vodka into a mixing glass or shaker half-filled with ice; add all of the remaining ingredients except the lemon twist. Stir or shake gently to mix and immediately strain into a chilled cocktail glass over fresh ice, if desired. Garnish with the orange or lemon twist.

Screwdriver

1½ - 2 ounces vodka or flavored vodka
Orange juice

Pour the vodka over fresh ice in a chilled highball (collins) glass. Fill the glass with orange juice and stir.

Bloody Mary

4-6 ounces tomato juice
2 ounces flavored vodka
1-1½ teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
Several dashes of Tabasco sauce
1 teaspoon freshly grated horseradish squeezed dry, if desired
Pinch of white or black pepper
1-2 pinches celery salt
½ - 1 teaspoon dried or fresh chopped dill
Celery stalk

Combine all of the ingredients except the celery stalk in a shaker with ice; shake gently. Pour (strain, if desired) the mixed drink into a chilled cocktail glass; garnish with a celery stalk.

there is room for growth and he anticipates pop Brazilian culture will make its way to US shores. “I passionately believe we have a culture that will grow dramatically, especially as we get closer to the World Cup [in 2014]. We have the potential to make it to a half-million category in 5 years and a million in 10 years.”

PISCO

Another South American spirit winning over cocktail consumers in the US is pisco. The grape distillate from Peru has a strong following in San Francisco, where there's keen interest in local and historical cocktails. Pisco Punch was created by bar owner Duncan Nicol at the Bank

Exchange in San Francisco during the California Gold

Rush [in the mid-1800s]. It is a concoction that Elizabeth

Asher uses as a selling point for her brand, Macchu Pisco.

Herbie Loeb, proprietor of Artisan Brands and owner of Gran Sierpe Pisco, points out that the still-emerging stage of pisco is what draws bartenders and home-mixers. “A lot of mixologists like the underground element of pisco.

Trendsetters want something cool and new—they are our primary targets.”

MEZCAL

Agave spirits have been experiencing an upward trend in recent years, and mezcal in particular is an up-and-coming niche segment. Domaine Select Wine Estates is the national importer for the much-touted craft mezcal Sombra. “One of the more recent additions to our portfolio that I definitely consider emerging is Sombra Mezcal,” notes Allison Domeneghetti, the company's COO.

“I find trade and consumers are paying attention to where and how spirits are produced. Some of these spirits, like Sombra, are microcosms of cultures and an example of how spirit production can help sustain a culture.”

GENEVER

Along with Pernod

Absinthe, another true vintage brand on the market is Bols Genever, which relaunched in 2008. Bols has since become a trailblazer in educating the industry on the category. It was commonplace to find genever lumped in with the gin. It is now common knowledge that genever is gin's precursor, and people are discovering the spirit as classic cocktails like the Improved Holland Gin

Cocktail find their way into the mainstream.

WHITE WHISKEY

Spirits hipsters in New York, Boston, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and beyond will tell you they've discovered white dog—not to be confused with crude moonshine. The New York Times fashion and style T blog recently wrote about the trend, and the San Francisco Chronicle stated that white whiskey is hitting the mainstream. Tuthilltown Distillery's white dog is called New York Corn Whiskey.

House Spirits Distillery (makers of Aviation Gin) in Oregon also makes white whiskey, as does Death's Door Spirits in Wisconsin.

“Death's Door has made an impact with its white whiskey, which launched about two years ago,” says Domeneghetti of Domain Select. “There are advantages—distilleries don't have to wait for the whiskey to age, and on the bartender side it offers the nuances of whiskey but is clear and so versatile.”

Simply Classic

These classic mixed drinks feature classic spirits.

Sazerac

The Sazerac, which is one of the first (if not the first) mixed drinks created in the United States, is sometimes called “the father of all cocktails.” It was concocted in New Orleans probably at the Sazerac Coffeehouse on Royal Street in the early 1800s. It was originally made with cognac, which was later replaced with rye whiskey. Serve it in a chilled traditional rocks (old-fashioned) glass.

2-2½ ounces rye whiskey
1-2 sugar cubes or ½-1 ounce simple syrup
5-6 dashes of Peychaud's bitters
2-3 dashes of Angostura bitters
¼ ounce Herbsaint or Pernod
Lemon twist

Fill a cocktail shaker three-quarters full with fresh ice; add the whiskey, sugar cubes or simple syrup, and bitters. Do not shake; instead, use a bar spoon to stir the drink until the shaker is ice-cold and frosty.

Pour the Herbsaint into the serving glass and either tilt or roll it to coat the inside of the glass; pour out any excess. Strain the mixed drink into the glass. Squeeze the lemon twist over the drink and rub it around the rim of the glass; either drop the twist into the drink or discard it.

Improved Holland Gin Cocktail

Serve in a chilled traditional cocktail glass.

2-2½ ounces genever
½-1 teaspoon simple syrup or 1-2 sugar cubes
1-1½ teaspoons Grand Marnier, Cointreau, or maraschino liqueur
2 dashes Angostura bitters
Lemon twist

NEW IN IOWA!

Fill a cocktail shaker three-quarters full with fresh cracked ice; add the genever, simple syrup or sugar cubes, liqueur, and bitters. Do not shake; instead, use a bar spoon to stir the drink vigorously until the shaker is ice-cold and frosty. Strain the mixed drink into the serving glass. Squeeze the lemon twist over the drink and rub it around the rim of the glass; either drop the twist into the drink or discard it.

Caipirinha

The name of this sweet rum-based concoction, which is the national drink of Brazil, can be translated as "country humpkin." Serve it in a traditional rocks (old-fashioned) glass.

1 lime cut into quarters
2-2½ teaspoons finely granulated sugar
2-2 ½ ounces cachaça

Place the lime wedges and sugar in the serving glass, and muddle well. Fill the glass with fresh ice cubes, and add the cachaça; stir well. Stir often while drinking it to keep the sugar from settling at the bottom of the glass.

Pisco Punch

Serve in chilled traditional punch bowl with cups.

1 pineapple cut into ½ x 1½-inch squares
8 ounces gum syrup (see note below)
16 ounces distilled water
10 ounces fresh lemon juice
24 ounces pisco brandy

Soak the pineapple squares in the gum syrup overnight.

When ready to serve, place the pineapple squares and gum syrup in the chilled punch bowl; add the water, lemon juice, and pisco. Garnish each cupful with a pineapple square.

Note: You can buy gum syrup from Small Hand Foods and other specialty producers or make your own.

Gum Syrup

2 ounces very hot (almost boiling) water
2 ounces gum arabic powder (available from Frontier Coop and other natural food suppliers)
4 ounces water
8 ounces sugar

Combine the 2 ounces of very hot water and gum arabic powder, stirring until the gum arabic completely dissolves. Let mixture cool.

Combine the 4 ounces of water and sugar in a pan and bring to boiling; stir constantly until the sugar completely dissolves. Add the cooled gum arabic mixture, and boil for 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Allow the gum syrup to cool; store in a tightly closed bottle.

Mezcal Margarita

Serve either over ice in a chilled traditional rocks (old-fashioned) glass or in a chilled prepared margarita glass.

1½-2 ounces mezcal
½-1 ounce triple sec
1-1½ ounces fresh lemon juice
Dash of simple syrup

Pour the mezcal, triple sec, lemon juice, and simple syrup into a shaker half-filled with fresh ice. Shake vigorously, and strain the mixed drink into the serving glass.

DAVINIA hazelnut liqueur

With its smooth, pleasantly sweet flavor, Davinia, named for a cultivar of the hazelnut, is great on the rocks, in coffee, or when used to make desserts.

Got Chocolate?

A splash or two of chocolate will turn a martini into a luscious libation for Valentine's Day or any other "special" occasion. So stock up on chocolate-flavored liqueurs and vodka and let the mixing begin! Here are some recipes to get you started.

White Chocolatini

Melt a chunk of white chocolate, and use it to rim the martini glass before chilling it.

3-3½ ounces vanilla-flavored vodka
½-1 ounce white chocolate-flavored liqueur
Shaved white chocolate

Fill a shaker or mixing glass half-full with fresh ice. Add the vodka and liqueur; shake vigorously or stir. Strain the mixed drink into the chilled rimmed martini glass, and garnish with the shaved white chocolate.

Chocolate Martini

Melt a chunk of milk or dark chocolate, and use it to rim the martini glass before chilling it.

3-3½ ounces chocolate-flavored vodka
½-1 ounce chocolate-flavored liqueur

*Dash of orange-flavored liqueur, if desired
Shaved chocolate or chocolate sprinkles*

Fill a shaker or mixing glass half-full with fresh ice. Add the vodka, chocolate liqueur, and orange liqueur (if desired); shake vigorously or stir. Strain the mixed drink into the chilled rimmed martini glass, and garnish with the shaved chocolate or sprinkles.

Chocolate Mint Martini

Melt a chunk of mint-flavored chocolate, and use it to rim the martini glass before chilling it.

3-3½ ounces chocolate-flavored vodka
½-1 ounce chocolate-flavored liqueur
½-1 ounce white crème de menthe
½-1 ounce white crème de cacao
Shaved mint chocolate

Fill a shaker or mixing glass half-full with fresh ice. Add the vodka, chocolate liqueur, crème de menthe, and crème de cacao; shake vigorously or stir. Strain the mixed drink into the chilled rimmed martini glass, and garnish with the shaved chocolate.

LEGALLY SPEAKING

COMMON COMPLIANCE CITATIONS

Iowa Code authorizes several entities to perform compliance checks on liquor licensees and beer and wine permittees. Fire and health departments, building inspectors, law enforcement, the Division, and the Department of Inspections and Appeals are all authorized to access a licensed premises to monitor compliance with the laws governing the sale and service of alcoholic beverages.

The Division strives to achieve compliance with laws and regulations in a proactive manner through education and training. Sanctions and enforcement measures are used only when absolutely necessary. Discussing the following common violations with your employees can help you steer clear of compliance citations.

SALE TO MINORS. Selling, serving or providing alcoholic beverages to persons under age 21, including minors accompanied by a parent or guardian, is against the law. Iowa Code 123.49(2)(h)

INTOXICATED PERSONS. Selling or serving alcoholic beverages to intoxicated persons or persons simulating intoxication is prohibited. The violation applies to off- and on-premises licensees, permittees, employees and agents. Iowa Code 123.49(1)

AFTER HOURS CONSUMPTION. Spirits, wine and beer may not be sold, served or consumed on a licensed premise between the hours of 2 AM and 6 AM, Monday through Saturday. Prohibited hours on Sundays fall between 2 AM and 8 AM. The statute applies to licensees, permittees, employees, agents and patrons. Iowa Code 123.49(2)(b)

ILLEGAL CREDIT SALES. Credit may be extended through the use of bona fide credit (American Express®, Discover®, MasterCard®, Visa®, et. al.) only. Credit vouchers and tabs are illegal. Iowa Code 123.49(2)(c)

LIQUOR IN CONTAINER OTHER THAN ORIGINAL. Storing liquor in a container other than the original or adulterating liquor by adding other substances (infusions) may result in automatic revocation of a license or permit. Revocation leaves the licensee or permittee ineligible to hold a license for two years and the premises ineligible to be licensed for one year. Iowa Code 123.49(2)(d)

REFILLING LIQUOR CONTAINERS. Licensees may not refill or “marry” bottles of liquor, including refilling well-size bottles from larger bottles containing the same or different brand. The violation may result in automatic revocation of the license or permit. Iowa Code 123.49(2)(e)

CRIMINAL ACTIVITY. Knowingly allowing criminal activity (gambling, drug trafficking, fighting, public intoxication, et. al.) to occur on the licensed premises or in the outdoor areas adjacent to the licensed premises can result in administrative action. Iowa Code 123.49(2)(j)

Violations found while conducting a compliance check may result in a criminal citation to the person committing the violation, administrative sanctions against the license or permit and, in some cases, civil actions under the Iowa Dram Shop Act. The Division encourages licensees to be vigilant about complying with all Iowa laws. When in doubt about a practice or law, always feel free to contact Division staff with any questions.

“As a condition for issuance of a liquor control license or wine or beer permit, the applicant must give consent to members of the fire, police, and health departments and the building inspector...; the county sheriff,...public safety,... the [Iowa Alcoholic Beverages] division and the department of inspections and appeals...and police officers... to enter...areas of the premises where alcoholic beverages are stored, served, or sold, without a warrant during business hours.”

- Iowa Code §123.30(1)(b)

LET THE GOOD TIMES ROLL!

Give your customers the taste of Mardi Gras this year by serving a variety of traditional rum-flavored drinks in a carnival setting complete with gaudy masks and beads. Laissez les bons temps rouler!

Basic Mardi Gras Punch

Serve in a chilled punch bowl with punch cups.

1 (40-ounce) bottle purple grape juice, chilled
1 (48-ounce) can pineapple juice, chilled
1 (2-liter) bottles ginger ale, chilled
1 fifth vodka or flavored vodka, chilled
Ice ring made with ginger ale and fruit juices
Orange, lime, and lemon slices

Combine the grape juice, pineapple juice, ginger ale, and vodka in the chilled punch bowl. Float the ice ring and fruit slices on top.

Hurricane

Serve in a chilled hurricane or cocktail glass.

1-1½ ounces light rum
1-1½ ounces dark rum
½-¾ ounce freshly squeezed lime juice
½-¾ ounce passion fruit syrup
Lime slice or wedge

Fill a shaker half full with fresh ice, and add the rums, lime juice, and syrup. Shake vigorously; strain the mixed drink into the chilled serving glass. Garnish with the lime slice or wedge.

Variations: Use gin, vodka, tequila, brandy, amaretto, orange or raspberry liqueur, a dash of grenadine, or grapefruit, orange, or pineapple juice in addition to or in place of some of the ingredients in the basic recipe above. Garnish with lemon, orange, or pineapple slices or wedges and a cherry.

Mojito

1-2 fresh mint leaves
3-4 teaspoons simple syrup
Fresh crushed ice or ice cubes
1½-1¾ ounces rum or flavored rum
Carbonated water or flavored carbonated water
Lime wedge

Muddle the mint leaves with the simple syrup in a heavy-bottomed serving glass. Add crushed ice or ice cubes; pour in the rum, and add enough carbonated water to fill the glass. Garnish with the lime wedge.

Daiquiri

2 ounces rum or flavored rum
Juice of ½ lime
½ teaspoon sugar syrup

Pour the rum, lime juice, and sugar syrup into a shaker half-filled with ice; shake vigorously. Strain into a chilled or frosted serving glass.
